Adaptive Tennis This Weekend in Salt Lake City

June 20, 2007- First Volley, adaptive tennis for ambulatory players and those with physical challenges will premier this Saturday, June 23 at the Salt Lake Swim and Tennis Club in Salt Lake City. First Volley is aimed at amputees and anyone who would like to play tennis, but chooses not to sit in the chair to do so. There is NO CHARGE for First Volley, and walk ins are welcome!

First Volley is the flagship adaptive program of the Orthotic & Prosthetic Assistance Fund, Inc. (OPAF), which serves as the Official Philanthropy of the U.S. orthotic and prosthetic community. First Volley is made possible in part by a grant from the United States Tennis Association Tennis and Education Foundation. Along with First Volley, OPAF offers First Swing (adaptive golf), First Swim and First Dive programs, aimed to introduce or re-introduce individuals to activities and sports that they may have thought lost to them.

First Volley will be held from 9am until 12 noon. All equipment will be provided by Prince Sports, including a Hitting for Prizes session. Refreshments will be sponsored by Otto Bock HealthCare. For more information and registration materials, please contact Robin Burton, OPAF Executive Director at 215-752-5756 or rlb@opfund.org.
